DEVICE TRAFFIC LIGHT LIGHT

The appliance traffic light is a safety concept with three categories used to classify the workshop's appliances:

As with a traffic light, green (or unmarked devices) is the least dangerous safety level. Here you only need authorization for the workshop (certificate 1 & 2). The devices in the green level are not explicitly marked. Only from the next level onwards are all appliances marked.

A corresponding safety briefing is required for work from the yellow level upwards. This currently takes place as required and in person. In the future, this will also be possible by means of an introductory video followed by a Moodle test.

Level red means do not use the appliance at all.
